SOURCE

1. From 23 through 28 November 1952, Parchim airfield was unoccupied. No construction activity was observed at the field. The radio installation east of the highway to Pann had been removed.¹

2. In mid-December 1952, the result of the surveying done at the airfield by the Bauunion Berlin was not yet available at the planning department of the Verkehrsbau agency. In mid-January 1953, source learned that construction work at the airfield was to be started on 1 February. An area of 31,000 square meters was to be concreted.²

25X1A 1. Comment. The removal of the radio installation indicates that Parchim airfield will not be occupied in the near future.

25X1A 2. Comment. It remains to be seen whether construction work at the field will be started on 1 February 1953. According to a previous report, construction work was to be started on 2 January 1953.
